

Wonders & Worries

Professional support for children through a parent's illness.

We will, together.

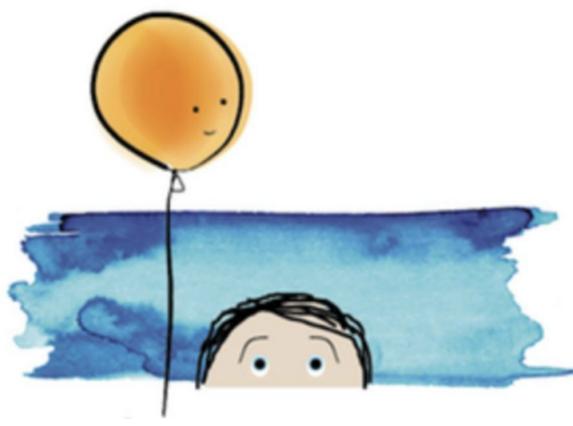

THANK YOU, TDS

No Worries Classic Event

Along with the Alice Kleberg Reynolds Foundation, our presenting sponsor, the generous support of the Texas Disposal Systems Exotic Game Ranch and Pavilion has allowed Wonders & Worries to raise more than $2.9 million in its 11-year history. Wonders & Worries is so grateful for the long-time support that TDS has provided us.

"Wonders & Worries is such an amazing organization that helps kids during the hardest times of their lives," said Jennifer Gregory, manager of TDS' Exotic Game Ranch. "They provide support in a way no other organization can. We are honored to have partnered with Wonders & Worries for the past 12 years to further the great work they are doing."

We welcome you to join us at this year's event on October 18th! Find out more information about the No Worries Classic on our website.

CHILDREN OF DISEASE

A VanDerland Productions Film

Filmmaker Madison VanDerlinde partnered with Wonders & Worries to create an independent documentary called 'Children of Disease.' This film is about four families battling simultaneously with illness and is meant to spread the word about the impact of parental chronic illness on children and teens. VanDerlinde herself was a 'Child of Disease', and this project explores the trauma these children endure. She visited Wonders & Worries to highlight our work and to spread the word about the support available to these families. VanDerlinde launched an incredible Kickstarter campaign and met her goal of $55,000 to fund her film, which is now in the editing process.

Thank you for your wonderful work, Madison! Check out the trailer for 'Children of Disease' below.
